

The Historie of

for powder, they'll fill a pit as well as better: rush man, mortall men, mortall men.

West. I, but, Sir Iohn, mee-thinkes they are exceeding poore and bare, too beggarly.

Fal. Faith, for their pouerty, I know not where they had that, And for their barenes, I am sure they neuer learnt that of me.

Prin. No ile be sworn, vnlesse you call three fingers on the ribs bare: but sirra, make hast, Percy is already in the field. Exit.

Fal. What is the King incamp'd?

West. He is Sir Iohn, I feare we shall stay too long.

Fal. Well, to the latter end of a Fray, and the beginning of a Feast, fits a dull fighter, and a keene guest. Exeunt

Enter Hotspur, Worcester, Douglas, and Vernon.

Hot. Weele fight with him to night,

Wor. It may not be.

Dow. You giue him then aduantage.

Ver. Not a whit.

Hot. Why say you so? lookes he not for supply?

Ver. So doe wee.

Hot. His is certaine, ours is dubtfull.

Wor. Good coosen be aduisde, stir not to night.

Ver. Do not, my Lord.

Dow. You doe not counsell well:

Then speake it out of feare, and cold heart.

Ver. Do not slander, Douglas, by my life,

And I dare well maintaine it with my life;

If well respected honor bid me on,

I hold as little counsell with weake feare,

As you my Lord, or any Scot that this day liues:

Let it be scene to morrow in the battell, which of vs feares.

Dow. Yea, orto night.

Ver. Content.

Hot. To night say I.

Ver. Come, come, it may not be.

I wonder much being men of such great leading as you are,

That you foresee not what impediments

Drag backe our expedition: certaine Horse

Of my coosen Vernons are not yet come vp,

Henry the Fourth.

Your Vncle Worcesters Horse came but to day,
And now their pride and mettall is asleepe,
Their courage with hard labour tame and dull,
That not a Horse is halfe the halfe of himselfe.

Hot. So are the Horses of the Enemie,
In generall iourney bated and brought low:
The better part of ours are full of rest.

Wor. The number of the King exceedeth ours:
For Gods sake, Coosen, stay till all come in.

The Trumpet sounds a parley. Enter Sir Walter Blunt.

Blunt. I come with gracious offer from the King,
If you vouchsafe me hearing and respect.

Hot. Welcome, sir Walter Blunt: and would to C
You were of our determination;

Some of vs loue you well, and euen those some
Enuie your great deseruings and good name,
Because you are not of our quality,
But stand against vs like an Enemie.

Blunt. And God defend, but still I should stand
So long as out of limit and true rule,
You stand against annoynted Maiesty:
But to my charge. The King hath sent to know
The nature of your griefes, and whereupon
You coniure from the breast of ciuill Peace,
Such bold Hostility, teaching his dutious Land,
Audacious cruelty. If that the King
Haue any way your good desertes forgot,
Which he confesseth to be manifold,
He bids you name your griefes, and with all spe
You shall haue your desires with interest,
And pardon absolute for your selfe, and these,
Herein mis-led by your suggestion.

Hot. The King is kind: and well we know, th
Knowes at what time to promise, when to pay:
My Father, my Vncle, and my selfe,
Did giue him that same royaltie he weares,
And when he was not sixe and twenty strong,
Sicke in the worldes regard, wretched, and low,

Your
